about basicly magazine

Basicly was born in Milan at the beginning of 2018. Founded by two professional photographers engaged in fashion from several years: Mattia Bonizzato and Giulia Mantovani. It is created with the intention of becoming a place where fashion brands, designers and artists of any kind of genre can show and promote their works. Our mission is not just to promote content created from others, but also collaborate and sponsor since birth projects and artists that are connected and similar to our aesthetic.

contents

Publications of photographic editorials, interviews with brands, artists, musicians and designers; videos and campaigns; reportage of events, fashion week (street style and backstage) and presentations.
